Hot Spot

Sending out the results of your bid or any other notices to interested parties is quick and easy!

Now you can post the results of your bid without having to post it as an addendum. This feature includes automatic email notification and the ability to post supporting documentation (i.e. a PDF file).

For printable detail instructions for this new feature click here.

Preview your project PRIOR to uploading to the AEPlans website with MaxPlans Manager.

In Max Plans Manager, right click on your project and select the "Display Full Project" to view your project exactly as people will view it on our website. You can also print a set of documents to proof for errors prior to uploading to the website.

This feature is helpful to check for grammar, hatching, and any errors before posting it to the website for contractors and other potential bidders to see.

Any change after a job is posted to the website would be shown as an addendum.
